Wireframes or UI / UX

The wireframe illustrates the structure of the FIXLY website homepage. At the top, there's a header with the FIXLY logo, a search icon, and links for Home, Services, About, Contact, Login, Sign Up, and Become a Professional. Below the header is a large banner featuring a worker with a tool belt using a laptop, the word "FIXLY" in a large bold font, and the text "HOME Professional & Reliable SERVICES Find trusted professionals for all your home maintenance needs". The main content area is titled "Our Professional Services" and lists six services: Painting, Cleaning, Plumbing, Carpentry, Electrical, and Dry Cleaning. Each service has a brief description and a "View Services" button. A "How It Works" section shows three steps: Choose a Service, Book an Appointment, and Get it Done. The footer contains sections for About Fixly, Quick Links, and Services, along with contact information and social media links.

FIXLY- Convenience at Your Doorstep

The screenshot shows the Fixly Admin dashboard. On the left, a sidebar menu lists various administrative functions: Dashboard, Users, Service Providers, Listings, Bookings, Categories, Commissions, Complaints (which is selected and highlighted in blue), Reports, and Settings. The main content area is titled "Customer Complaints". It features a table with columns: Customer, Service, Type, Date, Status, and Actions. A message at the top right indicates "Status: All Statuses". Below the table, a message states "No complaints found" with a small icon of a car. A note below it says "Try adjusting your search or filter to find what you're looking for."
